

The University of Manchester

Degree Congregations

JULY 2013

At The University of Manchester, we focus on making things happen, turning enthusiasm into achievement and ground-breaking theory into cutting-edge practice.

Welcome from the President and Vice-Chancellor

Our newest graduates today join a prestigious hall of fame that includes 25 Nobel Prize winners among our current and former staff and students, and a worldwide community of more than 240,000 alumni who can be found holding top positions in every imaginable field.

Over a distinguished history spanning more than 180 years, our innovative minds have accomplished feats of global importance, including the birth of the modern computer, the splitting of the atom, and the foundation of modern-day economics.

Today, our students form a diverse and fascinating community, drawn from all corners of the globe, united in their goal to build a better future via a world-class educational experience of a lifetime.

We encourage our students to take charge of their future, finding a voice and forming opinions, getting involved and meeting fresh challenges, making the most of the multitude of resources and opportunities that we have to offer.

And we know, with their intelligence, inspiration and ambition, our new graduates will find they have what it takes to make their future happen.

I welcome you all – graduands, family members and friends – to The University of Manchester for this degree congregation.

This is a time of celebration for all of us and I very much hope that you find it an enjoyable occasion. As each graduand is presented for conferment of their degree, the University shares with you all a great sense of pride in the award they have worked so hard to attain.

For those of you graduating today, these ceremonies mark not the end of your relationship with the University but the start of a new stage. It is my hope that the links between the University and you will grow ever stronger and I look forward to you becoming an active member of the University's alumni body.

I wish you every success for the future and that you all have a truly memorable day.

Professor Dame Nancy Rothwell
President and Vice-Chancellor

The Faculty of Engineering and Physical Sciences

The Faculty of Engineering and Physical Sciences is large and comprehensive with nine component schools: Chemical Engineering and Analytical Science; Chemistry; Computer Science; Earth, Atmospheric and Environmental Sciences; Electrical and Electronic Engineering; Materials; Mathematics; Mechanical, Aerospace and Civil Engineering; and Physics and Astronomy. Together they offer a diverse portfolio of research and teaching of the highest quality.

Many of the major advances of the 20th century began here, including the work by Rutherford leading to the splitting of the atom and the development of the world's first modern computer. Today, research activities remain at the cutting-edge and the Faculty now generates around £75 million in research funding a year.

The quality, breadth and volume of research activity at the Faculty of Engineering and Physical Sciences is unrivalled. There are more than 70 specialist research centres and groups at the Faculty, each undertaking pioneering research into areas ranging from nuclear decommissioning and nanotechnology to artificial intelligence and aerospace.

Research is at the heart of The University of Manchester's Faculty of Engineering and Physical Sciences. The 2008 Research Assessment Exercise revealed outstanding results, with all of our departments demonstrating international or national excellence.

The Faculty of Humanities

The Faculty of Humanities is the largest of the University's four Faculties, with a world leading reputation in research that spans academic areas as diverse as the arts, international development, modern languages, education, law, the social sciences, education, business and management. With a total income of around £190 million per annum, around 18,000 students and some 1000 academic staff, it is equivalent to a medium-sized university in the UK.

Major activities include the Centre for New Writing, the Institute for Social Change, the Brooks World Poverty Institute, Humanitarian and Conflict Response Institute, the Manchester Institute for Innovation Research, the Research Institute for Cosmopolitan Cultures, the Centre for Chinese Studies, the Institute for Development Policy and Management, the Centre for Equity in Education and the Sustainable Consumption Institute.

In the 2008 Research Assessment Exercise, Humanities was behind only Oxford and Cambridge in the number of world-leading staff returned, classified as 4*. Of its activity, 22% was classed as world leading and a further 40% as internationally excellent.

The Faculty of Life Sciences

The Faculty of Life Sciences is a world-class research establishment, recognised as an international site of excellence in terms of research power and importance in the latest Research Assessment Exercise.

It is home to more than 1,000 researchers, over 2,000 undergraduate students and has an annual budget in excess of £100 million.

Students benefit from modern facilities, innovative teaching techniques and the opportunity to be taught by leading experts from across the breadth of the life sciences. The highly interactive research and teaching environment allows the Faculty to conduct the highest quality research while maintaining an extensive range of undergraduate and graduate programmes as well as vocational training.

The Faculty's research fields include environmental biology, disease biology, neuroscience, genetics and zoology. There are also world-leading researchers studying vision science and the history of science, technology and medicine.

Academics regularly have their work published in leading scientific journals and significant breakthroughs are consistently being made in the understanding of a range of diseases.

Rapid advances in molecular and structural biology, genomics and bioinformatics will ensure that the life sciences continue to dominate scientific discoveries in the 21st century.

The Faculty of Medical and Human Sciences

The Faculty of Medical and Human Sciences has a long and proud history of innovative teaching and ground breaking research, and is one of the largest faculties of clinical and health sciences in Europe. The Faculty has five Schools: Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Psychological Sciences, and Nursing, Midwifery and Social Work. It also has six Faculty research-focussed institutes: Brain Behaviour and Mental Health; Cancer Sciences, Cardiovascular Sciences; Human Development; Inflammation and Repair, and Population Health. The Faculty has strong interdisciplinary links with other Schools, Faculties and Institutes across the University, including Life Sciences, Engineering and Physical Sciences, Economic and Social Sciences, Education and the Paterson Institute for Cancer Research. The School of Medicine traces its past to the first medical school established in England outside London, while the School of Nursing was the first British school to offer a degree in the subject; similarly, Manchester was the first university to award degrees in Pharmacy and was the first university in Britain to appoint a full-time professor of psychology; the first degree programme in dentistry was introduced in 1904.

The Faculty's performance in the 2008 Research Assessment Exercise (RAE) reflects its strength across an entire range of biomedical and clinical research areas from laboratory-based investigations through to studies of the impact of discoveries on the health of the population. There is a strong organisational capability for undertaking cross-faculty teaching and research activity in partnership with the public sector and industry. For example, in around 450 community placements/GP practices and 17 district hospitals, the Faculty trains in excess of 450 doctors each year. Similarly, in partnership with the NHS and Health Education England, it provides continuing professional development for 60,000 pharmacy professionals in England.

Furthermore, teaching and research is spread over a wide area with major links to Central Manchester University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, the Christie NHS Foundation Trust, Salford Royal NHS Foundation Trust, University Hospital of South Manchester NHS Foundation Trust, and Manchester Mental Health and Social Care Trust.

The University of Manchester Award for Outstanding Academic Achievement is awarded to the top students in each graduating year based solely on academic performance and consists of a certificate presented at graduation and a cheque for £1,000.

The prestigious award reflects the exceptional performance of the individual graduates during their time at The University of Manchester.

The 2013 Alumni Association Award
Outstanding Alumna
Dr Catherine O'Keeffe

Outstanding Alumni Awards are presented each year by The University of Manchester Alumni Association to former students who have achieved distinction in their field or have brought honour to the University through their outstanding achievements.

Catherine graduated from The University of Manchester in 1985 with a BNurs, RGN, RHV and DNcert. Shortly after graduating Catherine went to work in Honduras and Guatemala running primary healthcare programmes for a small charity. During this time she first became aware of the impact of the HIV/AIDS epidemic and was particularly concerned by the plight of those who, due to stigma, were marginalised and unable to receive even basic care. She worked to help set up hospices in both countries to care for those in need.

On returning to the UK Catherine took the opportunity to study for an MEd in Education for Primary Care at Manchester to help her consider the complexities of providing care in resource-limited settings. Further work in Thailand enabled Catherine to apply the theories she had explored on the MEd to developing community based approaches to HIV care.

In 1997, Catherine joined Mildmay International, a pioneering HIV charity, working with teams from the Ministry of Health in Kenya to develop an innovative model of home-based care. Building on her contacts with The University of Manchester, Catherine studied for an MPhil to research approaches to educating healthcare workers on HIV care. She also worked with the Department of Nursing to establish a degree programme now run by Mildmay in Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania. The degree has raised awareness of the importance of educating healthcare professionals effectively in this region in ensuring people living with HIV receive the high standard of care they deserve. Her doctoral work explored how to support healthcare professionals living in Kenya who are themselves living with HIV.

Now working in London, Catherine continues to draw on her international HIV care and education expertise to teach and research in the field of education for healthcare professionals through her role as a Senior Lecturer in Clinical Education at the Institute of Education and work with newly formed local education and training boards.

The 2013 Alumni Association Award

Outstanding Alumna
 Jacqueline Caine

Outstanding Alumni Awards are presented each year by The University of Manchester Alumni Association to former students who have achieved distinction in their field or have brought honour to the University through their outstanding achievements.

Jackie Caine epitomises a new generation of Manchester alumni quickly making a name for themselves in their chosen careers.

Born and brought up in Middleton, Jackie graduated in 2006 with a first class degree in Zoology, including a year's placement studying Colobus monkeys and Black Rhino at Paignton Zoo.

After graduation, her work at Paignton led her to Kenya, helping to conserve wild Colobus monkeys and local primate populations along the Diani Coastline.

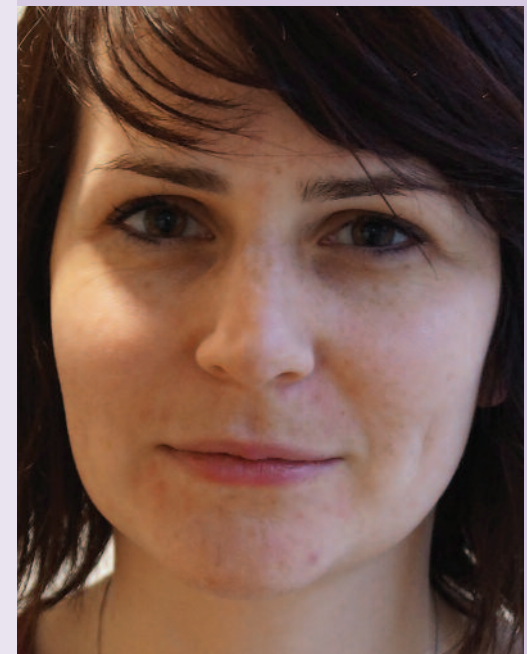

On her return from East Africa, Jackie showed the commitment and persistence that has been a hallmark of her career to date. She spent six months working for the Society for Education and Exploration as an unpaid intern in London, while at the same time holding down several part-time jobs to fund it.

Her hard work paid off when she was offered a three-month contract by Chester Zoo, researching human-elephant conflict in India. After this, she found work at the Bat Conservation Trust, and began applying for numerous research grants to further her knowledge at masters level.

Her efforts came to fruition when she was offered one of the last NERC grants on a masters in Conservation at UCL, with an emphasis on conservation in the UK. At the same time, she worked as a volunteer for Wildlife and Policy LINK, helping with general administration duties and gaining experience of environmental lobbying and policy work.

Shortly after finishing her masters in 2011, she joined the Society of Biology, working with the policy team to provide government and other policy makers with authoritative, independent, and evidence-based opinion. She is currently Senior Science Policy Officer at the Society.

Outside work, Jackie is a director and co-founder of 'Groho' – a non-profit company which aims to make urban greening solutions more accessible to urban communities.

The 2013 Alumni Association Award
Outstanding Alumnus
Gerry Pennell OBE

Outstanding Alumni Awards are presented each year by The University of Manchester Alumni Association to former students who have achieved distinction in their field or have brought honour to the University through their outstanding achievements.

A graduate in Mathematics, Yorkshire-born Gerry Pennell's career quickly developed into software development and project management.

He spent several successful years leading major IT and software-related projects for a number of large organisations, including a period in management consultancy with PriceWaterhouseCoopers. But it wasn't until 2000 when his name first came to wider prominence, when he took on the role of Director of Technology for the 17th Commonwealth Games held in Manchester in 2002.

It was a high profile, high pressure role that required him to lead the establishment from scratch of an entire technology department, the selection of key suppliers and sponsors, and the delivery of the IT and telecommunications for the Games, which at the time was the largest multi-sport event ever held in the UK.

After the success of the Games, Gerry moved across town to become to become CIO for the Cooperative Financial Services and the Cooperative Group – a £9.5bn turnover group of businesses covering banking, insurance, retail and a whole host of other areas. As well as the re-engineering of the internet bank Smile and other major implementations, Gerry led an extensive modernisation programme, including the out-sourcing and off-shoring of significant elements of IT.

When London won the rights to stage the 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games, Gerry was one of the obvious candidates for the role of CIO. He joined LOCOG in 2008 and spent the next four years developing, managing and delivering the massive technology programme necessary for staging the largest event in the world.

He was appointed a Member of the Olympic Order - the IOC's highest honour - in August 2012, and awarded an OBE in the Queen's New Years Honours List 2013 in recognition of his contribution to London 2012.

In July 2013, Gerry's career came full circle when he returned to The University of Manchester as director of IT.

The 2013 Alumni Association Award
Outstanding Alumnus
Michael Napier QC CBE

Outstanding Alumni Awards are presented each year by The University of Manchester Alumni Association to former students who have achieved distinction in their field or have brought honour to the University through their outstanding achievements.

Michael Napier has been one of the UK's leading lawyers for over 40 years and has played a major role in law reform and the development of the civil justice system.

He received his LLB from The University of Manchester in 1967, having also been a stalwart of the rugby team and senior student at his hall of residence, Hulme Hall.

He continued his legal training at the College of Law in Guildford and at a small firm in Loughborough that represented injured miners. From there, he was inspired to join Thompson's solicitors in Manchester, one of the largest personal injury law firms in the country.

In 1972, Michael crossed the Pennines to Sheffield to join Irwin Mitchell, then a small high street firm but now a major national practice.

It was there – a firm he led for 30 years as senior partner – and in the well known firm Pannone Napier, that he made his mark over four decades, representing clients in many landmark cases and pioneering major developments in the law of personal injury, clinical negligence, mental health and pensions.

He was at the forefront of developing group actions in the 1980s and 1990s, acting on behalf of victims of the major transport disasters of that period, including the Manchester Air Crash and the sinkings of the Herald of Free Enterprise and the Marchioness. He was the first solicitor advocate to appear before the European Court of Human Rights in 1981 in the Case of X, that established meaningful tribunal rights for detained mental patients.

An honorary QC, he was President of the Law Society in 2000-01 and is a former President of the Association of Personal Injury Lawyers. As a member of the Civil Justice Council, he has been a leading voice in pressing for law reform to improve access to justice for consumers. Since 2002, Michael has been the Attorney General's Pro Bono Envoy, was awarded the CBE in 2005, and was named Lawyer of the Year 2012 in the Legal Business Awards.

The 2013 Alumni Association Award
Outstanding Alumnus
Adam Umarji

Outstanding Alumni Awards are presented each year by The University of Manchester Alumni Association to former students who have achieved distinction in their field or have brought honour to the University through their outstanding achievements.

Adam Umarji and his brother Imtiaz came to Bolton as political refugees following the coup of 1977 in Seychelles. They established General Traffic, which started business in Farnworth in 1983 and has now expanded into one of the largest stockists of automotive parts in the North West with 18 regional branches servicing garages all over Lancashire, Cheshire and Staffordshire, employing over 300 people. In January 2013 the company created a number of new jobs by opening three greenfield branches in Manchester, Ellesmere Port and Birkenhead.

In addition to his success as an entrepreneur, Adam is well known for his commitment to giving back to the community. One example of his charitable involvement is his support for Essa Academy in Bolton. Essa Academy has been a remarkable success and is now rated in the top three secondary schools in Bolton. Through General Traffic, Adam is very generously supporting the Manchester Business School building project. A lecture theatre in MBS East has been renamed the General Traffic Lecture Theatre in recognition of the company's support.

Adam recognises that the skills he learned as part of his MBA Entrepreneurship programme helped shape the strategy and growth of his business.

Congratulations on your graduation day and welcome to the Manchester alumni 'family'. Today you are joining a worldwide network of over 270,000 former students. We hope that your graduation will be a transition to a new stage of a lifelong connection between you and your University.

We want you to get involved and realise all the benefits we continue to offer you. Visit your alumni homepage (www.manchester.ac.uk/alumni), become a Facebook fan (www.facebook.com/alumniuom), follow us on Twitter and Instagram (@AlumniUoM), browse photos of our campus and events on Flickr (www.flickr.com/manchesteralumni), and join our LinkedIn group (bit.ly/Li_AlumniUoM).

Your Alumni Association is supported by the University's Division of Development and Alumni Relations, providing you with a wide variety of opportunities for engagement, such as volunteering, networking events, social gatherings, career talks and resources, lectures by world-class academics and much more. With regular events in Manchester, London and all over the world, you can always keep in contact with your University and fellow alumni.

One of the ways you can help the next generation of students is by supporting Scholarship funds. In this way, alumni can support and enrich the teaching and learning of current students, contribute to outstanding University research programmes and help the University to continue to provide an excellent education for the students of today and tomorrow.

You'll also receive your annual alumni magazine, Your Manchester, which is dedicated to keeping you updated with University and alumni news. We'll send you a copy or you can read it online – look out for it every year. We also send a regular eNewsletter, in which many of our events are advertised and we feature topical news items.

Alumni who want to keep in touch find it very easy to do so. You can always chat to us through social media.

The alumni website, Your Manchester Online (www.manchester.ac.uk/yourmanchester), gives you access to everything you will need, including how to update your details online, as well as information about events, new research and alumni networks and groups across the globe.

You automatically become a full member of the Alumni Association on graduation but, to enjoy all of the benefits, register online for your Alumni Association membership card and access to online services. Go to www.manchester.ac.uk/yourmanchester and register using your student registration number (which is on your library card). This number is unique to you and will soon become your alumni number.

After you have registered you can enjoy the many alumni services the University offers, including the ever expanding: 'Your Manchester Extras'. You can get continued free use of the University library and also free remote access to many academic eJournals and reference material. The University's sports facilities are also still available to you at a preferential rate.

We have also negotiated dozens of special offers with various outlets on campus, as well as restaurants, hotels, theatres and commercial companies around Manchester (full details are available on Your Manchester Online).
