Archival history (Background to the collection)	Ann Adeyemi donated this material to the Race Relations Resource Centre in 2010. She had suffered a brain haemorrhage in 2008 and wanted to ensure that her and her family's history were recorded for posterity. Alongside the archive donation Julie Devonald at the Resource Centre carried out a project with students at the University of Manchester to document Ann's life, including interviewing her and creating a poster about her life.
Administrative history (Quick description)	Of particular significance is the fact that Ann's grandmother was White Irish and her grandfather Black Liberian. They met in Salford in the early part of the twentieth century. Ann's mixed race mother was born in 1920. Ann's father was born in Liberia but grew up in Sierra Leone. Ann was born in Manchester in 1951. In her early life she lived in Cheetham Hill and Ashton. Ann qualified as a teacher, taught History, English and Drama and worked in London on anti-racism project. She has also been an Inspector of Arts and Humanities in Wandsworth. Ann currently (2014) lives in Blackburn.
Scope and content (Detail of content)	Most of the material pertains to Ann's life, covering her childhood, education, social and family life. There is a small amount of material relating to her parents, including her father's passport and discharge papers. Types of material include photographs, correspondence, newspaper clippings, educational transcripts, official documentation, religious items, arts ephemera (theatre & music) and books.
System of arrangement	The material is organised into a number of series (NB some series only contain one item, listed at series and item level): Photographs 1930s-1940s Photographs 1940s-1960s Photographs 1970s-1980s Photographs 1980s-1990s Correspondence Newspaper Clippings Educational Materials Educational Transcripts (De La Salle College, Manchester) Educational Transcripts (Notre Dame College of Education, Liverpool) Educational Transcripts (Bury Convent Grammar School) Educational Transcripts (St. Mary's Junior School) Official Documentation for James Adeyemi Correspondence Religious Certificate Handwritten Inventory Theatre Ephemera Signed Photographs Religious Ephemera Book Menu Pendant Photograph Manchester Guidebook Address Book
Related material	The Resource Centre holds transcripts of three interviews carried out with Ann in 2010.
