WELCOME

Welcome to our spring 2020 season at the Martin Harris Centre.

Mark Woolstencrof

Welcome to the new season of events at the Martin Harris Centre. We have an exciting and diverse programme lined up this season, with a range of events from drama, literature, music and more. We welcome back familiar friends and University alumni and we are thrilled to welcome some new and emerging talent.

The season launches with a free concert as part of the Walter Carroll Lunchtime Concert Series, with jazz pianist, Tom Hewson performing original music from Essence, his latest album made inside the Bösendorfer piano factory in Vienna. There are a variety of free Thursday lunchtime concerts taking place including Gamelan from West Java and Black Voices – an all-female a-Capella collective who are celebrated worldwide for their stunning voices.

We are thrilled to be hosting CoMA Fest, Contemporary Music for all Festival in March. This festival will include a variety of workshops and rehearsals and will culminate in an evening concert. You can find out how to get involved on page 30.

We look forward to seeing you at our Literature Live events in partnership with Manchester Literature Festival, Centre for New Writing and Creative Manchester. We have the pleasure of hosting readings with some of the most accomplished writers around today in venues across the city. These writers include Isabel Allende, Frances Leviston, Jessica Moor, Emma Jane Unsworth and Peter Gizzi.

Our Manchester University Music Society (MUMS) is back with a variety of concerts including their 4-day thrilling music festival – Estival, showcasing everything from Symphony Orchestra and Big Band to Wind Orchestra and Music Outreach, including the popular summer sing-a-long relaxed performance. Other MUMS performances include the Musica Festival and a special performance from The University of Manchester Chorus and Symphony Orchestra, performing at the Bridgewater Hall in May for the first time since 2009.

Our resident String Quartet Quatuor Danel continue their fifteenth season at the University with their mesmerising evening and lunchtime concerts. They continue to perform concerts based around the three areas central to the quartet's growing international fame. In March they will be holding the Quatuor Danel Open House Weekend, a music-making opportunity which will feature coaching by individual members of the Quatuor Danel and Professor David Fanning.

These are just a few of the highlights that barely touch the surface of the incredible talent and diverse events on offer. Don't forget the handy tear-out events guide at the back of this brochure, which provides all of our events in date order. You can also visit our website for the full programme and up-to-date event information and to book: www.manchester.ac.uk/mhc.

The spring season is now on sale and you can purchase tickets either online or in person at Martin Harris Centre Box Office, or call 0161 275 8951 (opening times 12.30-2.30pm).

We hope you enjoy the new season.

Mark Woolstencroft Martin Harris Centre Manager

INTRODUCINGTHE MARTIN HARRIS CENTRE

The Martin Harris Centre for Music and Drama is a performance space at the heart of The University of Manchester.

The Creative Campus

The Centre is situated at the very heart of the University's campus.

Since it opened in 2003, the Centre has contributed to the cultural life of students, staff, alumni and the wider community. It hosts new and emerging artists, as well as more established, internationally renowned figures.

The Centre offers a varied programme of arts events, many of which are free, in order to educate, stimulate and engage audiences, as well as provide memorable and inspirational experiences.

Events are open to the public and include concerts, theatre productions, literature and spoken word events, seminars and lectures.

It incorporates two major performance spaces: the 350-seat Cosmo Rodewald Concert Hall and the John Thaw Studio Theatre, which can accommodate approximately 100 people.

Accessibility

The Martin Harris Centre is open to all, and strives to be inclusive. In 2015, the Centre embarked on a journey to become a more dementia-friendly and accessible arts venue. Over the past few years, adaptations have been made to the venue, the programme and to facilities, in order to encourage participation.

Relaxed Performances are now programmed each season. These concerts are designed to be less formal than other events and intended to be welcoming to people who may not feel comfortable visiting an arts venue. Small changes, such as leaving the lights on during a concert, and allowing audience members to move around or leave during a performance make the environment more welcoming.

The events are open to everyone, including people living with dementia, a learning disability, or visitors on the autistic spectrum. Friends, family members and carers are also welcome.

Food and Drink

The Centre has a number of shops, cafés and restaurants close by, delivering value for money, excellent service and great food and drink.

Here are just a few options available to you within 5 minutes of the Martin Harris Centre:

Café Arts

Based in the foyer of the Martin Harris Centre, Café Arts serves coffee, teas, cold drinks and light refreshments.

Opening times: 9am - 3pm (Monday to Friday) and is also open for weekend and evening concerts at the Centre.

You can pre-order interval drinks prior to the start of each event.

Christie's Bistro, Oxford Road

Christie's Bistro is based within the Old Christie Library, in one of the University's most iconic buildings. It offers a range of light snacks and light bites throughout the day, coupled with a wide range of beverages.

Opening times: 9am - 5pm (Monday to Friday) Tel: 0161 275 7702 Email: Christies.Bistro@manchester.ac.uk

The University Green

The University Green adjoins the new Alliance Manchester Business School and is home to an enticing selection of shops, bars and restaurants including Café Nero, Mowgli Street Food, TAKK, Five Guys, Friska and Brewdog. This exciting variety of cafés and restaurants provide a range of exceptional refreshments, breakfasts, brunches, lunches, dinners and snacks.

For further information please contact the Martin Harris Centre Box Office on 0161 275 8951.

Artwork on display

The Centre is fortunate to display a collection of stunning textile wall hangings by contemporary textile/fibre artist. Alice Kettle. These striking pieces of artwork; Red and Blue Movement in Three and The Birth of Motives in the Clouds, are unique in their grouping and were commissioned by The Oglesby Charitable Trust.

LITERATURE

These unique literature events, organised by the University's Centre for New Writing, bring the best known contemporary writers to Manchester to discuss and read from their work. Everyone is welcome.

LITERATURE LIVE: Luke Brown and Emma Jane Unsworth

Join us for a reading by two of the finest English-language poets at work in the world today.

Luke Brown grew up in Fleetwood, Lancashire, and now lives in London, although he is frequently in Manchester to teach at the Centre for New Writing at The University of Manchester. His debut My Biggest Lie was published in 2014 and his second publication Theft, will be launched at this event. Luke reviews books for the Financial Times, London Review of Books, Times Literary Supplement and New Statesman.

Emma Jane Unsworth is an award-winning novelist and screenwriter. Her novel Animals (Canongate) won a Jerwood Fiction Uncovered Prize 2015 and has been adapted into a film, for which Unsworth wrote the screenplay. The film premiered at Sundance Film Festival 2019. She also writes for television and various magazines including The Big Issue. A Burgess Fellow at the Centre for New Writing in 2016, this event launches her new novel, Adults, published in January 2020 (Borough Press).

Presented in partnership with Creative Manchester.

LITERATURE LIVE: Isabel Allende in Conversation with Jeanette Winterson

Manchester Literature Festival and the Centre for New Writing are thrilled to welcome one of Latin America's greatest authors to the UK for her first visit in 12 years. Born in Peru and raised in Chile, Isabel is the author of 24 best-selling books including The House of Spirits, Daughter of Fortune and City of the Beasts. Her work has been translated into 42 languages and she is the recipient of over 60 awards including the 2018 National Book Award for Lifetime Achievement. To celebrate the publication of her new novel, A Long Petal of the Sea, Isabel will read and discuss her work with Professor of New Writing at The University of Manchester, Jeanette Winterson.

Informed by the lives of friends and relatives, A Long Petal of the Sea is a masterful work of historical fiction about home and belonging, hope and sorrow. It starts in 1939 at the end of the Spanish Civil War, when half a million refugees escaped Franco by walking from Spain to France, and follows a young doctor and his sister-in-law as they navigate the turmoil and displacement of the twentieth century. Their journey takes them from Europe to Chile and Venezuela and includes a rich web of characters who come together in love and tragedy over the course of four generations.

Join us for this special event with one of literature's most enchanting

LITERATURE LIVE: Eimear McBride

Manchester Literature Festival and the Centre for New Writing are delighted to present an evening with Eimear McBride. One of our most arresting writers, Eimear has written two acclaimed and uncompromising novels, A Girl is a Half-formed Thing (Baileys Women's Fiction Prize) and The Lesser Bohemians (James Tait Black Memorial Prize). At this intimate Manchester event, Eimear will read and discuss her remarkable third novel, Strange Hotel, with host Vona Groarke.

A nameless woman enters a nondescript hotel room. She's been here once before, many years ago. The room hasn't changed, but she has. From Auckland to Avignon, Oslo to Austin, over the coming years she will occupy a series of other hotel rooms. Each is as featureless and impersonal as the last. But these rooms have rules of their own: how loss is negotiated within them, and what boundaries to impose on the men she sometimes meets there.

Urgent and immersive, Strange Hotel is an indelible portrait of a woman's mind as she wrestles with her desires and memories. Intricately constructed, it is a novel of enduring emotional force.

22 WALTER CARROLL LUNCHTIME CONCERT SERIES

QUATUOR DANEL

THE UNIVERSITY OF MANCHESTER'S

INTERNATIONALLY RENOWNED RESIDENT STRING QUARTET.

The Quatuor Danel's fifteenth season of residency at the Martin Harris Centre continues, offering another feast built around the three areas central to their growing international fame.

From Russia they perform both Prokofiev Quartets and works by Weinberg. Myaskovsky and Schnittke. From France and Belgium they bring us Chevalier de Saint-George (the first classical composer of African origin), César Franck, Debussy, Milhaud and Dusapin. From Austria, Mayseder, Brahms and Zemlinsky.

Is there a more vibrant classical music programme in the North-west? We doubt it.

All concerts take place in the Cosmo Rodewald Concert Hall unless otherwise stated.

Please note that there is reserved seating for all Quatuor Danel evening concerts at the MHC.

Seating for all Thursday lunchtime concerts is unreserved.

The Thursday lunchtime concerts are part of the Walter Carroll Lunchtime Concert Series, which is supported by the Ida Carroll Trust

Quatuor Danel

Lunchtime Concert with Richard Whalley (piano)

Iti for Solo Violin Dusapin Lekeu Adagio Molto

Sonata No. 4 for Violin and Piano, in F, Op. 39 Weinberg

One of a series of works for solo instruments, all beginning with the letter 'i', by the best-known living French composer, Pascal Dusapin, precedes the soulful slow movement by Belgian Guillaume Lekeu, who died of typhoid at the age of 24, and Weinberg's expressively wide-ranging Fourth Sonata for Violin and Piano.

Followed at 2.30pm by Quatuor Danel Seminar

Evening Concert

Chevalier de Saint-George Quartet, G.191 Dusapin Quartet No. 4 Franck Quartet in D

One of numerous quartets by the first classical composer of African ancestry, born in Guadeloupe in 1745 and also famous in his day as a champion fencer, is followed by the Fourth by Pascal Dusapin and the only one by César Franck.

INTERNATIONALLY RENOWNED RESIDENT STRING QUARTET.

Quatuor Danel Open House Weekend

The University of Manchester and its internationally-renowned resident string quartet, the Quatuor Danel, invite you to join in another fantastic music-making opportunity.

Everyone is welcome to participate in the event, which will feature coaching by individual members of the Quatuor Danel and Professor David Fanning, who will also take part in end-of-day discussions/workshops.

Taking place from Friday 27 March to Sunday 29 March 2020, the event is offered to amateurs, professionals and students. Participants should all be in established ensembles, from duos upwards. We will endeavour to offer each group attending for two days or more a minimum of three coaching sessions with our resident experts.

The Martin Harris Centre for Music and Drama is pleased to offer attendees free tickets for the Friday evening concert, part of the Quatuor Danel's prestigious 2019-20 season, featuring quartets by Debussy and Myaskovsky, plus the Piano Quintet by Schnittke.

Please note that places are limited. In the event of over-subscription, preference may be given to Quatuor Danel season-ticket holders and to staff and students of The University of Manchester from subject-areas other than Music.

'They are the best coaches we have ever had by a long way.'

'It was a great experience as always, thanks for organising.'

For further information or to request a booking form, please contact the Martin Harris Centre Box Office by emailing boxoffice@manchester.ac.uk; or by calling 0161 275 8951.

The multi-storey on Booth Street West, has been awarded the 'Park Mark' award. Safer parking status,

Park Mark®, is awarded to parking facilities that have met the requirements of a risk assessment conducted by the Police.

The Martin Harris Centre for Music and Drama is situated behind the Manchester Museum, which is located on Oxford Road. It is approximately 1 mile south of the city centre.

There are 2 entrances to the building, one on Bridgeford Street, the other on Coupland Street. Please note that there is pedestrian access only to both of these streets.

The Cosmo Rodewald Concert Hall and the John Thaw Studio Theatre can both be found within the Martin Harris Centre.

Sat Nav:

Please do not rely on your satellite navigation system to find the Martin Harris Centre, as our postcode covers the entire University of Manchester campus. As an alternative, we would advise patrons to use Google maps.

Find us on Google:

www.google.com/maps and search for Martin Harris Centre.
