Administrative / Biographical history

The Zimbabwe Women's Organisation (ZIWO) is a constituted voluntary group established by five Zimbabwean women in 2006. The group is led by volunteers and supports Zimbabweans living in Greater Manchester to realise their full potential.

Zimbabweans living in Greater Manchester seem to be hidden from the multicultural make up because there was no record of their heritage or existence in the area. In 2018 ZIWO received a National Lottery Heritage Fund grant to undertake the Tracing the heritage of Zimbabweans living in Greater Manchester project. The aim of the project was to demonstrate the diversity of black minority ethnic communities in Greater Manchester and the richness and uniqueness of the Zimbabwean culture.

Meeting at the Turkey Lane & Monsall Neighbourhood Centre several times, the community group were able to come together and share beliefs and traditions, dance and eat food.

The project collected life stories which covered themes including childhood, their migration journey to the UK, Zimbabwean traditions and totems as well as hopes and fears for the future.

By recording these stories it was hoped that Zimbabweans could familiarise themselves with the culture, values and morals enshrined in Ubuntu and future generations will be able to trace where they came from and the life their families lived. The testimonies also provide a wealth of insight to those outside of the Zimbabwean community.
