Supporting Information

This project would offer the opportunity to present findings to the Respect board, who include significant national policy makers such as, Police and Crime commissioner for Northumbria and the Violence Against Women and Girls Commissioner for Brighton Council.

It would also offer the opportunity to write up the findings into a briefing paper for possible publication by Respect (naming the placement holder as author or co-author as relevant).

There would be the potential to present findings at the next national Respect conference either as a conference keynote or workshop presentation.

Practical Considerations

- The work will primarily be carried out in the London office with occasional days from home.
- Induction and line management support provided.
- The intern must take due care to ensure personal data is kept secure and confidential.
- There is no financial support provided by the organisation.
