

The Inaugural Festival of Public Health UK

To be opened by Professor Lindsey Davies CBE, FFPH, FRCP – President of the Faculty of Public Health

The University of Manchester is proud to announce the first Festival of Public Health UK on Monday July 2nd, 2012 in association with the Manchester Medical Society Public Health Forum.

The festival presents you with the opportunity to display your work and network with other people working in public health and related fields from around the UK. Plenary lectures, workshops and poster displays will form the core of the festival.

The theme for the festival will be Prevention and Screening. Abstract submission does not have to be confined to this subject and there will be no weighting applied to this topic when abstracts are chosen.

Prizes will be given out for the best presentations and posters

Instructions

1. The work described should be related to public health.
2. Type the summary in black and give it a structure. It should be no longer than 250 words.
3. The title (typed in capital letters) should be followed by the name(s) and contact details of the author(s), with the presenting author underlined.
4. The summary should show the work's relevance to promoting health. The content should be an appropriate structure (e.g. aims, design, setting, participants, results and conclusions). Please indicate your preference for oral or poster presentation (or both).
5. The Manchester Medical Society Public Health Forum will select the work to feature at the meeting and will decide whether it is accepted for oral or poster presentation.
6. Your summary should reach us no later than Friday 8th June 2012.
