

The University of Manchester

Degree Congregations

DECEMBER 2012

At The University of Manchester,
we focus on making things happen,
turning enthusiasm into achievement and ground-breaking theory into cutting-edge practice.

Our newest graduates today join a prestigious hall of fame that includes 25 Nobel Prize winners among our current and former staff and students, and a worldwide community of more than 240,000 alumni who can be found holding top positions in every imaginable field.

Over a distinguished history spanning more than 180 years, our innovative minds have accomplished feats of global importance, including the birth of the modern computer, the splitting of the atom, and the foundation of modern-day economics.

Today, our students form a diverse and fascinating community, drawn from all corners of the globe, united in their goal to build a better future via a world-class educational experience of a lifetime.

We encourage our students to take charge of their future, finding a voice and forming opinions, getting involved and meeting fresh challenges, making the most of the multitude of resources and opportunities that we have to offer.

And we know, with their intelligence, inspiration and ambition, our new graduates will find they have what it takes to make their future happen.

Welcome

from the President and Vice-Chancellor

I welcome you all – graduands, family members and friends – to The University of Manchester for this degree congregation.

This is a time of celebration for all of us and I very much hope that you find it an enjoyable occasion. As each graduand is presented for conferment of their degree, the University shares with you all a great sense of pride in the award they have worked so hard to attain.

For those of you graduating today, these ceremonies mark not the end of your relationship with the University but the start of a new stage. It is my hope that the links between the University and you will grow ever stronger and I look forward to you becoming an active member of the University's alumni body.

I wish you every success for the future and that you all have a truly memorable day.

Professor Dame Nancy Rothwell
President and Vice-Chancellor

The Faculty of Engineering and Physical Sciences

The Faculty of Engineering and Physical Sciences is large and comprehensive with nine component schools: Chemical Engineering and Analytical Science; Chemistry; Computer Science; Earth, Atmospheric and Environmental Sciences; Electrical and Electronic Engineering; Materials; Mathematics; Mechanical, Aerospace and Civil Engineering; and Physics and Astronomy. Together they offer a diverse portfolio of research and teaching of the highest quality.

Many of the major advances of the 20th century began here, including the work by Rutherford leading to the splitting of the atom and the development of the world's first modern computer. Today, research activities remain at the cutting-edge and the Faculty now generates around £75 million in research funding a year.

The quality, breadth and volume of research activity at the Faculty of Engineering and Physical Sciences is unrivalled. There are more than 70 specialist research centres and groups at the Faculty, each undertaking pioneering research into areas ranging from nuclear decommissioning and nanotechnology to artificial intelligence and aerospace.

Research is at the heart of The University of Manchester's Faculty of Engineering and Physical Sciences. The 2008 Research Assessment Exercise revealed outstanding results, with all of our departments demonstrating international or national excellence.

The Faculty of Humanities

The Faculty of Humanities is the largest of the University's four Faculties, with a world leading reputation in research that spans academic areas as diverse as the arts, international development, modern languages, education, law, the social sciences, education, business and management. With a total income of around £190 million per annum, around 18,000, students and some 1000 academic staff, it is equivalent to a medium-sized university in the UK.

Major activities include the Centre for New Writing, the Institute for Social Change, the Brooks World Poverty Institute, Humanitarian and Conflict Response Institute, the Manchester Institute for Innovation Research, the Research Institute for Cosmopolitan Cultures, the Centre for Chinese Studies, the Institute for Development Policy and Management, the Centre for Equity in Education and the Sustainable Consumption Institute.

In the 2008 Research Assessment Exercise, Humanities was behind only Oxford and Cambridge in the number of world-leading staff returned, classified as 4*. Of its activity, 22% was classed as world leading and a further 40% as internationally excellent.

The Faculty of Life Sciences

The Faculty of Life Sciences is one of the largest and most successful unified research and teaching organisations of its kind in Europe.

With more than 1,000 people involved in research, 1,500 undergraduate students and an annual budget in excess of £100 million, the Faculty provides a highly interactive research and teaching environment where all barriers to collaboration have been removed.

As such, the Faculty is able to conduct the highest quality research while maintaining an extensive range of undergraduate and graduate programmes, as well as vocational training.

The Faculty was ranked third in the country by quality alone in the two Units evaluated in the 2008 Research Assessment Exercise. When these results were aggregated, it came second only to Cambridge – and ahead of Oxford - in terms of research power (Grade Point Average x number of staff).

The Faculty's research encompasses the entire spread of life sciences from the molecule to the cell to the organism, spanning all fields of biology from environmental studies to cancer biology, from neuroscience to post-genomics, and from structural biology to organ transplantation.

Rapid advances in molecular biology, structural biology, genomics and bioinformatics, will ensure that the life sciences will continue to dominate scientific discoveries in the 21st century.

The Faculty of Medical and Human Sciences

The Faculty of Medical and Human Sciences has a long and proud history of innovative teaching and groundbreaking research, and is one of the largest faculties of clinical and health sciences in Europe.

The Faculty has five Schools – Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, Psychological Sciences, and Nursing, Midwifery and Social Work – with strong interdisciplinary links with other Schools and Faculties across the University, including Life Sciences, Engineering and Physical Sciences, Economic and Social Sciences, and Education.

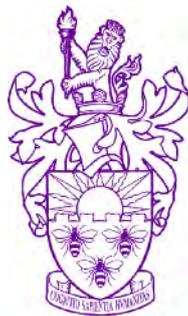

The School of Medicine traces its past to the first medical school established in England outside London, while the School of Nursing was the first British school to offer a degree in the subject; similarly, Manchester was the first university to award degrees in Pharmacy.

The Faculty's performance in the 2008 Research Assessment Exercise (RAE) reflects its strength across an entire range of biomedical and clinical research areas from laboratory-based investigations through to studies of the impact of discoveries on the health of the population.

There is a strong organisational capability for undertaking cross-faculty teaching and research activity in partnership with the public sector and industry. For example, in conjunction with four teaching hospitals, more than 300 GP practices and 25 district hospitals, the Faculty trains in excess of 350 doctors each year. Similarly, in partnership with the Department of Health, it provides continuing professional development training for all 18,500 community pharmacists in England.

Furthermore, teaching and research is spread over a wide area with major links to Central Manchester University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, the Christie NHS Foundation Trust, the Paterson Institute for Cancer Research, Salford Royal NHS Foundation Trust, University Hospital of South Manchester NHS Foundation Trust, and Manchester Mental Health and Social Care Trust.

The 2012 Alumni Association Award Outstanding Alumnus is Paul McCreesh

Over the past thirty years Paul McCreesh has established himself at the highest levels of classical music in both the UK and overseas.

After graduating from Manchester with a Mus.B. degree in 1981, he spent his early years as a music teacher in Leicestershire, performing as a musician in his spare time with the choral and instrumental ensemble he founded at university - Gabrieli Consort and Players.

However, the pull of performance proved too hard to resist. He quit teaching to dedicate himself to music full-time. Combining his passion for music of all types with an instinctive commercial awareness, Paul transformed Gabrieli from part-time side-project to world-renowned interpreters of great choral and instrumental repertoire, from the renaissance to the present day. The group still tours world-wide and has made many award-winning recordings.

Along the way, Paul has earned a reputation as one of the industry's most innovative and dynamic artistic directors and conductors. He regularly works with orchestras and choirs across the globe, covering a wide range of music. Recent successes include the Budapest Festival, Spanish National, Danish National, Bergen Philharmonic, St Paul Chamber, and further afield the Hong Kong Philharmonic and Sydney Symphony orchestras.

From 2006 to 2012, he was the artistic director of the Wratysława Cantans Festival in Poland, one of Eastern Europe's most prestigious cultural events, and in September 2012 he was appointed principal conductor and artistic adviser of the Gulbenkian Orchestra from the 2013/2014 season.

Paul is particularly passionate about working with young musicians and broadening access to classical music. He works regularly with youth orchestras around the world and has an outgoing outreach relationship with Chetham's School of Music in Manchester.

The 2012 Alumni Association Award
Outstanding Alumnus is
Dr Duncan Casson

Dr Duncan Casson is one of the UK's most respected developers of biological medicines. A native of Denton – and named after Manchester United's famous 'Busby babe' Duncan Edwards - Duncan moved to Plymouth with his family when he was nine. He returned to Manchester nine years later as student, graduating in 1980 with an honours degree in biochemistry.

Following a doctorate in microbiology and biochemistry at Birmingham University, Duncan spent three years as a researcher in biochemical engineering. He quickly realised, however, that his real passion was not in research itself, but in turning research into applications that improved lives.

He therefore left academia and over the next 15 years developed his career at two of the most respected names in international biochemistry – Genzyme Corporation and Cambridge Antibody Technology – developing innovative new products that enhanced the quality of life for people all over the world.

Perhaps his biggest success, however, is his most recent one. In 2005 Duncan set up a small biotech company - PanGenetics UK - to develop therapeutic antibodies targeting Crohns disease and chronic pain.

Within five years he had taken PanGenetics from start-up to one of the most talked-about names in biochemistry, having successfully developed a new therapeutic antibody to ease the plight of millions of sufferers of chronic pain.

After considerable international interest, in 2010 PanGenetics was sold to American biotech giant Abbott Labs for US$190 million.

Since the sale, Duncan has been advising a number of biotech companies on developing new therapeutic biological products. Most recently, he was appointed Chief Development Officer of a rapidly growing biotechnology company near Cambridge.

Alumni Association

Congratulations on your graduation day and welcome to the Manchester alumni 'family'. Today you are joining a world-wide network of over 250,000 graduates and former students and this is just the start of what we hope will be an ever-strengthening relationship between you and the University.

Now is the time to get involved and there is so much we can still offer you. Go to your alumni webpage (url below), to join us on Facebook, follow us on Twitter or connect to us on LinkedIn.

The Alumni Association is supported by the Division of Development and Alumni Relations and together we offer a wide variety of alumni activities and options for continued involvement, such as volunteering opportunities, networking events, social gatherings, career-enhancing opportunities, exciting lectures and much more. With regular events in Manchester, London and throughout the world, there are plenty of chances to meet up with fellow alumni and university colleagues.

One of the ways in which some alumni like to continue to contribute to the life of the University is through one of our active fundraising programmes. In this way, alumni support and enrich the teaching and learning of current students, contribute to outstanding university research programmes and help the University to continue to provide an excellent education to generations of students to come.

We also produce an annual alumni magazine, Your Manchester, which keeps you updated with university and alumni news. We'll send you a copy or you can read it online. Look out for it every year. We also send a regular eNewsletter, where many of our events are advertised and topical news items feature. Alumni who want to keep in touch find it very easy to do so.

The alumni website, Your Manchester Online (url below), gives you access to all this and you can also update your details online and find out about alumni networks and special-interest groups that keep in regular contact and meet across the globe.

You are automatically a member of the Alumni Association but to fully enjoy the benefits that this membership brings you can register online for your Alumni Association membership card and access to online services. Go to www.manchester.ac.uk/yourmanchester and register using your student registration number (on your library card). This registration number is unique to you and will soon become your alumni membership number.

After you have registered you can enjoy the many alumni services the University is offering you, which include the every expanding 'Your Manchester Extras' which include continued use of some of its facilities by alumni. You can still have free use of the University library and also free remote access to many academic eJournals via JSTOR. The University's sports facilities are still available to you at a discounted rate.

We have also negotiated forty special discounts and offers for alumni such as deals with various restaurants, hotels, theatres and commercial companies (full details are available online).
