Market Restaurant

104 High Street, Manchester, M4 1HQ
(Northern Quarter)

In the heart of Manchester's bustling Northern Quarter, Market Restaurant is a popular dining destination for local and visiting foodies alike. It may be small, homely and low-key, but this award-winning eatery is serious about good food and uses locally sourced produce wherever possible. The menu is modern British and changes every five to six weeks to keep things fresh and seasonal. Popular dishes include the pork, pistachio and apricot terrine; the confit duck leg with marmalade jus; and the sea bass with curried potatoes and cucumber-mint dressing. There is plenty for vegetarian dishes to choose from and wine is available by the carafe so you can try a few during your meal.
