A. ORDINANCES

1. The University may award the following Professional, Engineering or Enterprise Doctorates in accordance with the Regulations:
 - a. Doctor of Clinical Psychology (ClinPsyD)
 - b. Doctor in Education (EdD)
 - c. Doctor of Educational Psychology (DEdPsy)
 - d. Doctor in Educational and Child Psychology (DEdChPsychol)
 - e. Doctor of Engineering (EngD)
 - f. Doctor of Enterprise (EntD)
 - g. Doctor of Counselling Psychology (DCounsPsych)
2. A Professional, Engineering or Enterprise Doctorate is awarded by the University in recognition of the successful completion of a period of advanced study and research, the results of which show convincing evidence of the capacity of the candidate to pursue research and scholarship and make an original contribution and substantial addition to knowledge. Such degrees present the intellectual challenge and rigour of a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree but are enhanced by additional discipline-specific support and/or taught material in professional and technical areas. They are designed to meet the specific needs of a professional group external to the University, develop the capacity of individuals to work within a professional context and with which they are required to engage in a pedagogic context. The research may be embedded in professional practice, driven by a problem identified from a 'real world' context, making a creative and critical intervention in that context, and leading to a practical outcome as well as a theoretically informed written thesis. Professional Doctorates develop a reflexive, critical approach to problems of professional and/or real-world contexts. They provide an opportunity for professionals with a significant body of existing expertise to engage with HE research resource, and their research will have theoretical and practical outcomes – advancing knowledge as well as practice in their respective fields.
3. The mode of admission to the degree and other conditions relating to the degree shall be prescribed in Regulations.
