The Haunting of Molly Crowe (NEW FOR 2015)

The Haunting of Molly Crowe is a multisensory live action horror maze that throws you back in time to the exorcism of a cursed Victorian Manor House. You will be hooded and therefore, completely blindfolded for the majority of the experience which will heighten your senses making this one of our most extreme and claustrophobic mazes to date.

Please note: Guests will be blindfolded during parts of this experience.

Sub Species: The End Games (NEW FOR 2015)

This is a live action horror maze which will push the boundaries of anything the Alton Towers Resort has ever done before. You will descend deep underground to a post-apocalyptic sewer system, here your group will be split up and you will choose your own route in an attempt to avoid the creatures that chase after you. Unlike our other mazes, the creatures may touch you. If you are lucky enough to escape, Sub Species: The End Games features two alternative endings making each visit completely unique.

Terror of the Towers: What Lies Within (New Route for 2015)

Terror of the Towers is a live action, horror maze which is designed to push fear to the limit. In small groups you will venture round the darkened corridors of the forgotten ruin and discover the terrifying secret of what lies within. 2015 sees a brand new route, and some revised scenes making this year it's scariest yet.

Scare Zones

Forbidden Valley: Dark Apocalypse (NEW FOR 2015)

A deadly virus has spread across Forbidden Valley. The infected show signs of highly aggressive behavior and rapid physical decomposition. Phalanx control has quarantined the area however, a recent security breach has questioned their ability to contain the virus and keep society safe.

Dark Forest: Nox Infernus (NEW FOR 2015)

The Underworld will rise once again for Nox Infernus. The Night of Fire. Either join 'The Cult' or submit to the end of this world as we know it.
