

Staying safe online

Your IT account is valuable.

University staff will never ask you for your password, so ensure you always keep it to yourself. You never know who might want to access your files or send emails from your account!

We have systems in place to reduce the risk of malicious emails and websites creeping through, but it's always possible that suspicious emails may arrive in your inbox.

If you're worried your IT account may be compromised, visit a walk-up IT support desk or call us on 0161 306 5544 straight away; we'd rather you were safe than sorry!

Suspicious emails?

Help us keep the University safe by finding out how to report suspicious emails:
