

Vittore Branca Centre – Fondazione Giorgio Cini,

In Venice, on the Island of San Giorgio Maggiore, there is a new residential resource for humanities studies where young researchers and expert scholars can stay while working in the Fondazione Giorgio Cini libraries.

The International Center for the Study of Italian Culture is named after Vittore Branca – a world-renowned Italianist who was Secretary General of the Fondazione Giorgio Cini.

Who can attend the Vittore Branca Center?

University students, professors, writers and artists willing to pursue some research work on the Fondazione collections, bequests and archives.

How to apply to the Vittore Branca Center?

Applicants shall propose a research project focused on Italian – be it visual arts, history, literature, music, drama, early printed books, from an interdisciplinary point of view – to be pursued in the Fondazione Giorgio Cini libraries.

Every applicant shall send:

- CURRICULUM VITAE
- APPLICATION FORM
- RESEARCH PROJECT

via email to: centrobranca@cini.it.

Each application will be examined by a panel of specialists; the Fondazione Giorgio Cini offers co-financing and scholarships to reduce costs of stay.

Please see the following link for further information and applications.

Please contact Louise Davies: louise.davies-2@manchester.ac.uk if you are going to apply.