

Department of Geography

The 125 Anniversary Lectures

A programme of public lectures to celebrate the appointment of the first lecturer in Geography at this institution in 1892.

Wednesday
27th September

The Making of the British Landscape
Nicholas Crane (Royal Geographical Society)
University Place, Lecture Theatre B, 6.00 pm

Wednesday
11th October

Life and Death in the Urbicene
Erik Swyngedouw (University of Manchester)
The 2017 Manchester University Geography Society (MUGS) Lecture
Humanities Bridgeford Street, Cordingley Lecture Theatre, 4.30 pm

Thursday
19th October

Rethinking East Asia in the New Global Economy
Henry Yeung (National University of Singapore)
Simon Building, Lecture Theatre C, 2.00 pm

Wednesday
25th October

Future Generations will be Roasted, Toasted, Fried and Grilled: Reflections on Climate Change and Intergenerational Justice
Gill Valentine (University of Sheffield)
University Place, Lecture Theatre A, 6.00 pm

Wednesday
8th November

Ice Age Art and the Human Environment in Europe 40,000 to 10,000 years ago
Jill Cook (British Museum)
The William Boyd Dawkins Lecture (with Manchester Museum)
University Place, Lecture Theatre A, 6.00 pm

Wednesday
22nd November

The Alps in the Anthropocene
Stuart Lane (University of Lausanne)
Humanities Bridgeford Street, Cordingley Lecture Theatre, 4.30 pm

Wednesday
29th November

Geopolitics and the Ethics of Algorithm
Louise Amoore (University of Durham)
Humanities Bridgeford Street, Cordingley Lecture Theatre, 4.30 pm

All staff and students welcome