

BSc International Business, Finance and Economics with/without Industrial/Professional Experience (IBFE)

First Year – 2020/21

Recommended Reading List

This reading list is designed to give you an insight into the reading material you can expect to cover during your first year courses.

Some costs may be incurred for books but, where possible, texts will be made available in the library (which we would encourage all students to use) or via digital formats. There may be an opportunity to purchase second hand books but please also bear in mind that sometimes the suggested reading may change.

| Course Code | Credits | Course title | Suggested reading |
|---------------------|---------|-------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Semester one | | | |
| BMAN10501 | 10 | Financial Reporting | .Weetman, P., (2019), Financial Accounting - An Introduction, 8th edition, Prentice Hall International. |
| BMAN10931 | 20 | Financial and Digital Innovations in International Business | Coggan, P. (2009) The Money Machine: How the City works, revised and updated edition, Penguin books |
| ECON10221 | 10 | Microeconomics 1 | The primary textbook for this course will be: The CORE project (2017) The Economy. Economics for a Changing World. Oxford University Press. See the e-book, and additional resources, at: www.core-econ.org |
| Full year | | | |
| BMAN10780 | 10 | Academic and Career Development | Bassot, B. (2016) The Reflective Journal (2nd edition), London: Palgrave Macmillan Cottrell, S (2013) The Study Skills Handbook London: Palgrave Macmillan Clegg, S.R., Kornberger, M & Pitsis, T.S (2015) Managing and Organisations: An introduction to theory and practice (4 Edition) London: Sage |
| AND | | | |
| ECON10061 | 10 | Introductory Mathematics | 1) Jacques, I. "Mathematics for Economics and Business", Prentice Hall, 2009 (Sixth edition). 2) Renshaw, G. "Maths for Economics", Oxford University Press, 2009 (Second edition). 3) Wisniewski, M. "Mathematics for Economics", Palgrave Macmillan, 2013 (Third edition). 4) Asano, A. "An Introduction to Mathematics for Economics", Cambridge University Press, 2013. |
| OR | | | |
| ECON10071 | 10 | Advanced Mathematics | Detailed prescribed reading is provided on the BLACKBOARD site. The ESSENTIAL TEXT (available from Blackwell University Bookshop, Oxford Road, Manchester) is: - ECON10071 Advanced Mathematics 2nd Edition A Pearson Custom Publication Compiled by Mario Pezzino |

| | | |
|--|--|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | | This text has been compiled specifically for this course from three sources: Essential Mathematics for Economic Analysis (3rd Edition), by Knut Sydsæter and Peter Hammond Further Mathematics for Economic Analysis (2nd Edition), by Knut Sydsæter, Peter Hammond, Atle Seierstad and Arne Strøm A Guide to Game Theory, by Fiona Carmichael The material covered is standard material and students can refer to many different textbooks and online resources for support |
|--|--|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|