

China Scholarship Council - The University of Manchester Joint Scholarship Programme for PhD study 2023-24

Current Closing Date for applications to The University of Manchester:
17 January 2023

Please note this is the proposed closing date for applications to The University of Manchester and may be subject to change, if the China Scholarship Council make any changes to their application deadline, to be completed once an academic offer has been confirmed by The University of Manchester.

Any changes to the 17 January 2023 university application deadline, will be advertised here.

The University of Manchester is pleased to continue the formal partnership with the China Scholarship Council to develop high calibre research collaborations between UK and Chinese universities and research institutions, now with more funding available to students. We have 52 Joint Scholarships available, across the University.

Up to 52 scholarships will be supported per academic year, as follows for each Faculty.

- Up to 40 PhD tuition-fee waivers for subjects within the Faculty of Science and Engineering
- 6 PhD tuition-fee waivers for subjects within the Faculty of Humanities
- 6 PhD tuition-fee waivers for subjects within the Faculty of Biology Medicine and Health

Benefits

- For successful applicants, The University of Manchester will cover their full tuition fees for the period of the relevant programme as outlined in the offer letter (usually three years). CSC will provide living allowances as prescribed from time to time by the Chinese Government, and will cover the round-trip international airfare for students from China to the United Kingdom, visa and passport application fees.
- The funding for each awardee will be up to 48 months [Standard offer is normally 3 years – 36 months, but if the institution makes it clear in the offer that a student requires 3+1 year to finish their study, CSC can offer 48 months allowances]
- Up to 52 scholarships will be supported per academic year, as per the breakdown for each Faculty

Please note:

The successful applicants will be responsible for arranging their Visa's in to the Country and The University of Manchester will not be responsible or liable in any way for any successful applicant's failure to obtain a visa or other requisite paperwork for entry and study in Manchester.

Eligibility criteria

To be considered for the joint scholarship programme, you must be a citizen and permanent resident of the People's Republic of China at the time of application. Overseas Chinese students may be eligible for application subject to CSC policy at the time (CSC publicises the policy by early November, each year).
