

A week in the life of our Religions and Theology student, Maddie

Hi! My name is Maddie, and I am a third year Religions and Theology student at the University of Manchester. I live in Fallowfield in a house with 7 of my friends during term time, during holidays I live at home in South London with my three younger siblings and my mother, as well as spending time in Surrey with my father. My favorite things to do in Manchester is to go out with my friends and walk around Northern Quarter with my boyfriend when he comes to visit me.

Formal study hours

Informal study hours

Student society

Part-time work

Social activities

Day	09:30-10:30	10:30-11:30	12:00-14:00	14:30-15:30	16:00-19:00	19:00-21:00
Monday	Meeting with academic mentor	Workout	Holocaust Theology Lecture	Read for Holocaust Theology seminar	Part-time work (tutoring)	Eat Dinner
Tuesday	Workout	Read for Holocaust Theology Seminar/ Dissertation	Lunch	Part-time work (tutoring)	Eat Dinner	Evening Watch a movie with housemates
Wednesday	Holocaust Theology Seminar	Radical Theologies Lecture	Have lunch in Alan Gilbert	Read for Radical Theologies Seminar	Chill with housemates	Part-time work (tutoring) Eat Dinner
Thursday	Workout	Read for Radical Theologies Seminar	Lunch	Read for Disseration	Part-time work (tutoring)	Go to the pub with course mates
Friday	Radical Theologies Seminar	Read for Disseration	Have lunch in Alan Gilbert with friends	Read for Disseration	Part-time work (tutoring)	Eat Dinner Evening Go to the pub with friends
Saturday	Have brunch		Read for Disseration	Workout	Eat Dinner	Evening Go out/go to the pub with friends
Sunday	Have brunch with friends		Do chores			Evening Go out for dinner/go out/go to the pub with friends