

A week in the life of our BASS Politics and Criminology student, Denisa

My name is Denisa and I am a second-year international student from Romania doing BASS Politics and Criminology at the University of Manchester. Ever since I was little I wanted to help people but the prism through which I was going to do it has changed over time. The dream has started from wanting to become a performer when I was in kindergarten, to put a smile on people's faces but now that I'm all grown up that dream has changed. My dream now is to work in the European Parliament to help people through writing policies. To be one step closer to achieving my goal, this year I have also started a second degree at a Romanian University to further enrich my knowledge.

Formal study hours
Informal study hours
Student society
Part-time work
Social activities

Day	09:00-10:00	11:00-15:00	15:00-16:00	16:00-17:30	17:30-19:00	19:00-20:00	20:00 onwards
Monday	Work out at home	Study session in the library	Lunch with friends at Student Union	Grocery shopping and cleaning	Dinner	Watch lecture videos for CRIM LAB	Move night
Tuesday	Making Sense of Criminological Data Lab Session	Study session in the Alan Gilbert Learning Commons		Online Korean Class	Dinner		Reading for politics
Wednesday	Work out at home	Asia Pacific Security Studies Lecture	Lunch with friends at Student Union	Study session	Korean class with the Korean society		Dinner in town with classmates and tutors from MUKKS
Thursday	Breakfast	Asia Pacific Security Tutorial	Study session in the library	Take CRIM quiz	Trip to city centre for bubble tea and shopping		Online concert
Friday	Making Sense of Criminological Data Feedback Session	Policing and the police Lecture	Policing and the police Tutorial	Grocery shopping	K-pop society movie screening		Dinner and drinks in town with friends
Saturday	Late Brunch	Dance practice at home	Chill time	Cook and eat dinner	Hang out with friends		Romanian society party
Sunday	Workout at home	Brunch	Chill time	K-Pop society dance workshop	Hang out with K-Pop soc friends	Dinner with friends	Household chores