BIOL62000 Health & Safety and Academic Malpractice:

All students are automatically enrolled onto an introductory online unit (BIOL62000) on health and safety, academic malpractice and academic literacy. Completion instructions for each of these sections are clearly defined within the course on Blackboard. Completion of the academic malpractice and health and safety section is mandatory for all students. All assessments must be completed as soon as possible after the programme begins, with the academic malpractice assessment being completed before the first piece of coursework is submitted.
