

Understanding and removing the barriers for women in academia at the early stage of their careers

- Are you an Early Career Researcher who is a woman based at the University of Manchester?

- We are carrying out focus groups to understand the experiences of early career researchers who are women in academia, to explore the potential challenges and examples of good practice.

- If you are interested in taking part in a focus group (up to 1.5 hours), please contact Dr Rebecca Turner via email: rebecca.turner@manchester.ac.uk
