

A week in the life of our Linguistics and Spanish student, Lucy

Hi, I'm Lucy and I'm a final year Linguistics and Spanish student. I've decided to do a dissertation this year which means that I'll be super busy but I'm really excited to start my research into the dialect of my hometown. As most of my friends graduated when I was on my year abroad, the societies at Manchester are a great way for me to make new friends - final year can be stressful so it's important to make time to relax and have fun. I'll also be working as a Global Guidance Ambassador to help students who want to study abroad, and I love how the University offers so many opportunities for part time work to their students.

- Formal study hours
- Informal study hours
- Student society
- Part-time work
- Social activities

Monday	11:00-12:00 Dissertation lecture	12:00-14:00 Language Policy and Planning Lecture	14:00-14:30 Lunch break	14:30-18:00 Studying in the Main Library	18:00-21:00 Pizza night and drinks with Linguistics Society
Tuesday	09:00-11:00 Spanish Language class	11:00-12:00 Meeting with dissertation supervisor	12:00-13:00 Lunch at the SU	13:00-16:00 Studying in the Main Library	16:00-19:00 Relaxing at the flat	19:00-23:00 Dinner and drinks with a friend
Wednesday	09:00-10:00 Cooking a big breakfast	10:00-13:00 Studying in my flat with a friend	13:00-14:00 Making a quesadilla for lunch	14:00-16:00 Reading for dissertation	16:00-19:00 Food shopping and making dinner with friends	19:30-21:30 Beginners Salsa class
Thursday	09:00-11:00 Slow morning meal prepping for the week	11:00-12:00 Preparing for Language Policy & Planning seminar	13:00-14:00 Language, Policy & Planning seminar	14:00-17:00 Computational Linguistics lecture and preparing for class	17:00-20:00 Watching TV then going to the Curry Mile with a friend	20:00-21:30 Street dance class
Friday	12:00-14:00 Computational Linguistics seminar	14:00-15:00 Spanish Translation & Writing class	15:00-17:00 Studying in my flat		19:00-20:00 Making dinner with my flatmate	20:00-23:00 Film night
Saturday	08:00-15:00 Student Ambassador shift for the University of Manchester Open Day			15:00-19:00 Relaxing in my flat and doing some housework	19:00 onwards Friends come to my flat for drinks then we go out!
Sunday	11:00-14:00 Shopping with my flatmate	14:00-15:00 Making pasta for lunch	15:00-18:00 Relaxing in the flat	18:00-20:00 Friend visiting and we make dinner together	20:00-23:00 Film night with my friends	