ROLE: Research Strategy and Policy Officer

EMPLOYER: University of York

INTERVIEW

Hi Zoe! Tell us a bit about why you chose to study the MA in Peace and Conflict Studies at the University of Manchester?

The chance to study with leading scholars in the field is invaluable! I read the course description and course unit outlines and felt so excited; I immediately knew it was the course for me.

Why did you pick your course?

It hit everything I was passionate about. We have so much freedom to focus on the areas we find most interesting, from theory to empirical studies.

What's the best thing about your degree?

Every single one of my tutors has been friendly, understanding, and approachable. They are all such experts in their field that I feel confident going to them for help, and I know they are willing to do their best for the students.

Are there any course units that you've particularly enjoyed?

I found Ethics in World Politics particularly fascinating. The theory I studied in that course unit helped me to understanding the world better, and I am using it in my second semester course units and dissertation. It really helped me develop academically.

Why should an applicant choose Manchester?

Studying at Manchester gives you the opportunity to learn from world-class academics in a friendly, supportive environment where there is always something going on.

We have so much freedom to focus on the areas we find most interesting, from theory to empirical studies.
