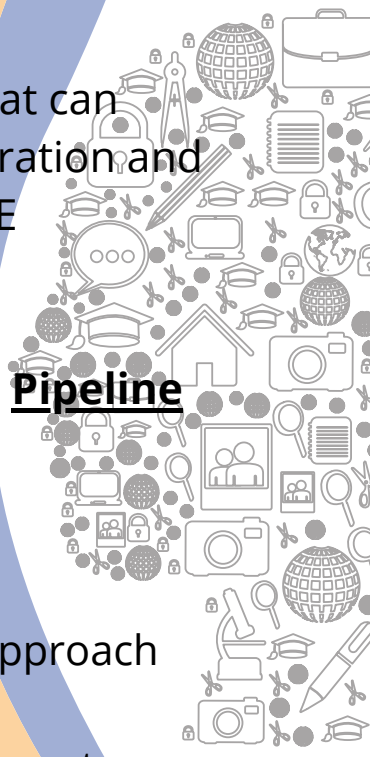
Preparing your team for a Collaborative Award for Teaching Excellence (CATE)

If you're considering submitting for an Advance HE Collaborative Award in Teaching Excellence (CATE) in the next three years then please join us for this suite of interactive online workshops, co-delivered to colleagues across the four universities. We will discuss the criteria (reach, value and impact), how to develop a narrative 'golden thread' and build up a bank of appropriate evidence. With input from existing award winners and sector leaders, the programme provides the perfect basis from which to plan and develop your team's case.

This 'pipeline' programme is aimed at leaders of teams that can demonstrate excellence in both their approach to collaboration and their impact. Team Leaders must already hold Advance HE Fellowship at FHEA level as a minimum.



PLEASE REGISTER by e.o.d. on Friday 20 February 2026: Pipeline programme

Main programme

- Monday 9 March, 12:30-2. Criterion 1: Excellence in Approach - Evidencing Reach, Value and Impact
- Monday 20 April, 12:30-2. Criterion 2: Excellence in Impact - Telling the Story

Next Steps

- Thursday 18 June, 10-11:30. So you're sure you're a CATE team? Now what?