

LGBTQIA+ HISTORY MONTH

Date	Event	Location	Extra Info
Thu 1 Feb 12.15pm	LGBTQ History Walk	Meet at John Owens Arch	Join our walking tour of the University taking in important LGBTQ+ spots on and around our campus
Tue 6 Feb 7.30pm	Book Launch	Queer Lit – Manchester	The official launch of Matt Cain's heartwarming new novel 'One Love' - a glorious and unflinching portrayal of queer love and friendship which is set in Manchester. Tickets are available on the Eventbrite link, but we have 5 available - just message lgbt@manchester.ac.uk before 12noon on Friday 2nd February with your name and email address to go into our prize draw.
Wed 7 Feb 13- 14.30pm	LGBTQ+ History Month: Queer South- Asians : We have always been here!	online	A panel discussion held with a group of South Asian Queers who are here to tell you that we have always been here. The panel will reflect on their experience as a minority within a minority, share personal reflections, and discuss their LGBTQIA+ Queer Icons. The panel aims to highlight the important role intersectionality has played in the LGBTQIA+ liberation movement. We shall talk about the past, the present, and the future of the LGBTQIA+ community.
Wed 7 Feb 12noon	LGBTQ+ History Amplified – Reclaiming Queer History	online	Committed to social impact, we bring you a curated panel of queer speakers representing both white and global majority voices this LGBTQ+ History Month. LGBTQ+ history is incredibly diverse, yet many mainstream narratives centre the experiences of LGBTQ+ people with privileged identities. Whitewashing is a term used to describe the ways in which certain, privileged narratives erase the experiences and perspectives of historically marginalised LGBTQ+ folks. Our queer storytellers share with us their connection to their histories, the ways in which these impact the ways they move in this world, and importantly, showcase the role LGBTQ+ resilience and inimitability play in redefining, recreating, and rebuilding more equitable systems for thriving LGBTQ+ communities.
Tue 13 Feb 12noon	Exhibition of Trans Experiences of	Jean Macfarlane	Please join us for the launch of "Illustrating significance in transitory times: object elicitation in trans homelessness". This exhibition is the visual component of the PhD research conducted by Steph Busby, in collaboration with trans activist and artist

	Homelessness		Berwyn Mure (@b_mure). Steph will be in attendance to deliver a talk on their work, which showcases the question of how health, being trans, and experiencing homelessness are interconnected.
Tue 20 Feb (all day)	LGBTQ+ History Month Bake Sale	Henry Royce Institute Foyer	Drop in at the Henry Royce Institute on the 20th February for a bake sale. The money raised will be donated to The Proud Trust. To tie into this year's theme of Medicine #UnderTheScope, there will be posters displayed with information about the month and about some key LGBTQ+ people past and present who have made great contributions to the field of medicine. Join us in the foyer and expect classic tunes!
Mon 26 Feb 1pm	Lunch & Learn – Sexual Orientation data	Online	In this interactive lunchtime session, you'll learn about the importance of us having accurate sexual orientation data; how to update your own and look at some case studies of success stories.
Mon 26 Feb 1pm	Lunch & Learn – Sexual Orientation data	Online	In this interactive lunchtime session, you'll learn about the importance of us having accurate sexual orientation data; how to update your own and look at some case studies of success stories.
Wed 28 Feb 5pm	Under Your Nose Film Screening	Kanaris Lecture Theatre – Manchester Museum	Collaborating with the BAME Network, we've arranged a film-screening of the documentary 'Under Your Nose'. This documentary depicts the story of the Black Lesbian and Gay Centre which was formed in 1985. The Black Cultural Archives regards this documentary as 'a seminal work'. The documentary's director and producer, Veronica McKenzie will join the screening for post-viewing Q&As. Refreshments will be provided.
Various 3pm £10 (pay on arrival)	LGBT+ Manchester Walking Tour	Meet at Alan Turing Memorial Statue (Sackville Gardens Sackville Street Manchester M1 3HB)	Explore Manchester's world-famous Gay Village with Josh's LGBT+ Manchester Walking Tour! It's a journey through iconic monuments, touching memorials, secret street art and legendary pubs to tell the story of how Manchester got so Queer. We will share stories of Manchester's LGBT+ heroes of both the past and the present - from underground Victorian drag balls to local stars appearing on RuPaul. Josh has an MA degree specialising in Manchester's LGBT+ history and continues to work with LGBT+ oral histories; at the end of each tour, he offers his list of insider recommendations.