We recommend booking your accommodation as soon as you receive a response about your abstract submission, as availability may be limited closer to the conference dates.

We are still in the process of finalizing the timetable for the event, but based on last year's schedule, registration and check-in will likely begin at 9:00 AM on the 21st of January, with tea and coffee available for guests upon arrival. The introductory talk is expected to start around 10:00 AM. The event is anticipated to conclude by approximately 4:00 PM on the 22nd of January, with additional tea and coffee provided in the afternoon. Some guests tend to stay a bit longer afterwards for informal drinks, should that be of interest.

We will be sending out information soon regarding food and registration for the event and updating the WEI website. I hope this helps with your travel planning, and I will keep you updated as soon as the final agenda is confirmed. If you have any other questions, need assistance with your travel plans, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Looking forward to seeing you at the conference!
