Actor briefs for the moral harm information videos

Introduction

We are recording a series of ‘talking head’ videos about moral distress as part of a project working with those who provide support services for NHS staff.

We aim to create a set of videos

Format of videos:

Each video will be 3-4 mins long (max).

We are using actors voicing fictionalised information so staff members cannot be identified but also so that each recording is as generic as possible and can be used by any NHS trust, without seemingly being owned by, or describing circumstances in, any individual trust.

We are asking for improvisation based on the brief below, recorded straight to screen sitting at a laptop. Training will be provided to the actors for this role.
