

We've renewed our EAUC membership – here's what that means for you

We're pleased to share that The University of Manchester has renewed its membership with the EAUC (Environmental Association for Universities and Colleges) – the UK's sustainability champion for post-16 education.

This gives all staff have free access to a wide range of resources, networks, events, and opportunities to support your work on environmental and social responsibility.

As a member, you can:

- Join EAUC networks and communities of practice

These networks connect professionals working on shared challenges across the UK and beyond. Communities of practice include areas like:

- o Biodiversity
- o Circular Economy
- o Energy & Water
- o ES Concordat
- o Further Education Network
- o Investment Management
- o Living Labs
- o Managing Climate Risks
- o Offsetting
- o Responsible Procurement
- o Waste

... and many more.

These are excellent spaces to ask questions, get advice, and learn from others in the sector – or share your own insights and approaches.

- Attend exclusive events and conferences

- From regular member webinars to the Annual Conference (held this year in Sheffield), EAUC brings together thought leaders, practitioners and policy makers. Or watch recordings on demand.
 - There are also Senior Member Roundtables held three times a year – spaces for high-level discussion that help shape sector-wide direction and policy.
- Get involved in training and development
 - Take part in training tailored to sustainability in higher education including Carbon Literacy.
- Explore free webinars, resources and toolkits
 - Get free access to a growing library of materials on everything from climate strategy and carbon reduction to curriculum development and sustainable operations.
- Keep up to date with news and developments
 - Sign up for regular e-news and the further education bulletin to stay informed about latest sector wide updates, events and insights.
- Share and learn through blogs
 - Read blogs from other educational members, strategic partners and sustainability professionals – or contribute your own case studies, research and best practice.
- Access sustainability consultancy
 - EAUC offers expert consultancy services for institutions looking to take a more strategic or technical approach to sustainability.
- Use key reporting tools and frameworks
 - Sustainability Leadership Scorecard – enables a single, engaging indicator of institutional progress to aid tracking and communication
 - Climate Action Roadmap – a strategic framework to guide the journey to net zero.
 - Standardised carbon emissions framework which supports institutions in understanding their emissions and taking climate action .

You can Explore EAUC member benefits and access most resources simply by registering using your university email address.

If you have any questions or want help making the most of our membership, get in touch with es@manchester.ac.uk.