

Title: Colleague Recognition Day

Say thank you, share appreciation, and celebrate your colleagues throughout November

On Friday, 7 November, we're proud to be introducing Colleague Recognition Day, an opportunity to pause and celebrate the dedication, talent, and teamwork that makes our University a great place to work and grow.

We've acted in response to our Your Voice Matters survey, where you told us that only

Get Involved

To help everyone take part, there are a few ways you can recognise colleagues this November:

Send an e-card

A simple yet meaningful gesture to express your thanks. With a selection of new designs, you can personalise your message and share it on our recognition wall or via a private message.
