

Care, safety and suicide risk when moving from child and adolescent into adult mental health services

Have you or someone you care for experienced suicidal thoughts, feelings and intentions and moved from child and adolescent to adult mental health services in the last 3 years?

What are we doing?

We are asking participants to complete our online survey looking at the differences in care and treatment between child and adolescent and adult mental health services, and how this might have impacted suicide risk

Why are we doing this?

To help us make recommendations to improve safety for all young people moving from child and adolescent into adult mental health services, and to reduce suicide in young people under the care of mental health services

How can you help?

You can take part in the study by scanning one of the QR codes below

Patient survey

Carer survey

For more information see the NCISH website