

Realising Disability Inclusion for ECRs: A Qualitative Study

We are examining how experience of disability affects the career expectations and pathways of Early Career Researchers (ECRs) at UoM.

The results of the research will be used to create institutional change across UoM.

What is involved?

You will be invited to attend a single one-hour interview. This will be either in person at the University of Manchester or via Microsoft Teams/Zoom.

Am I eligible to participate?

Are you a ECR at UoM who self-identifies as disabled, neurodivergent, and/or living with a long-term health condition?

If so, then you are eligible to participate.

What now?

If you wish to take part, please email

RealisingDisabilityInclusion@manchester.ac.uk